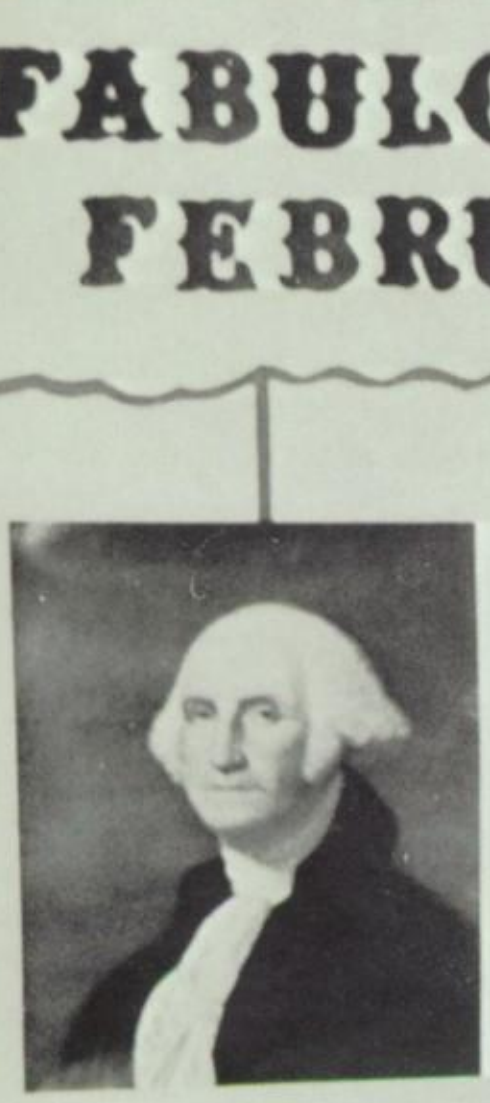
We, the Annual Staff of 1968, wish to dedicate our annual to Linda Susan Sanchez.

Her kindness and sweetness to others will always be remembered by those who knew her.



FABULOUS FEBRUARY

Foreword

On the following pages are the memories of 1967-68 which cannot be expressed or classified with name or form. These are memories which arouse feelings of happiness. May they enchant you with the recall of experiences which you have so pleasantly experienced this year.

Student Activities Varied

Students dressed as beatniks for the student council all school party.

Do you always sing the school song with your tongue sticking out, Brenda Smith?

The Cheerleaders and Twirlers are seen as they lead the pep rally.

"Now I wonder who stole my candy," says senior Peggy White, as she and other seniors work in the concession stand.

Don't give up, Mr. Allen; we'll get it sooner or later.

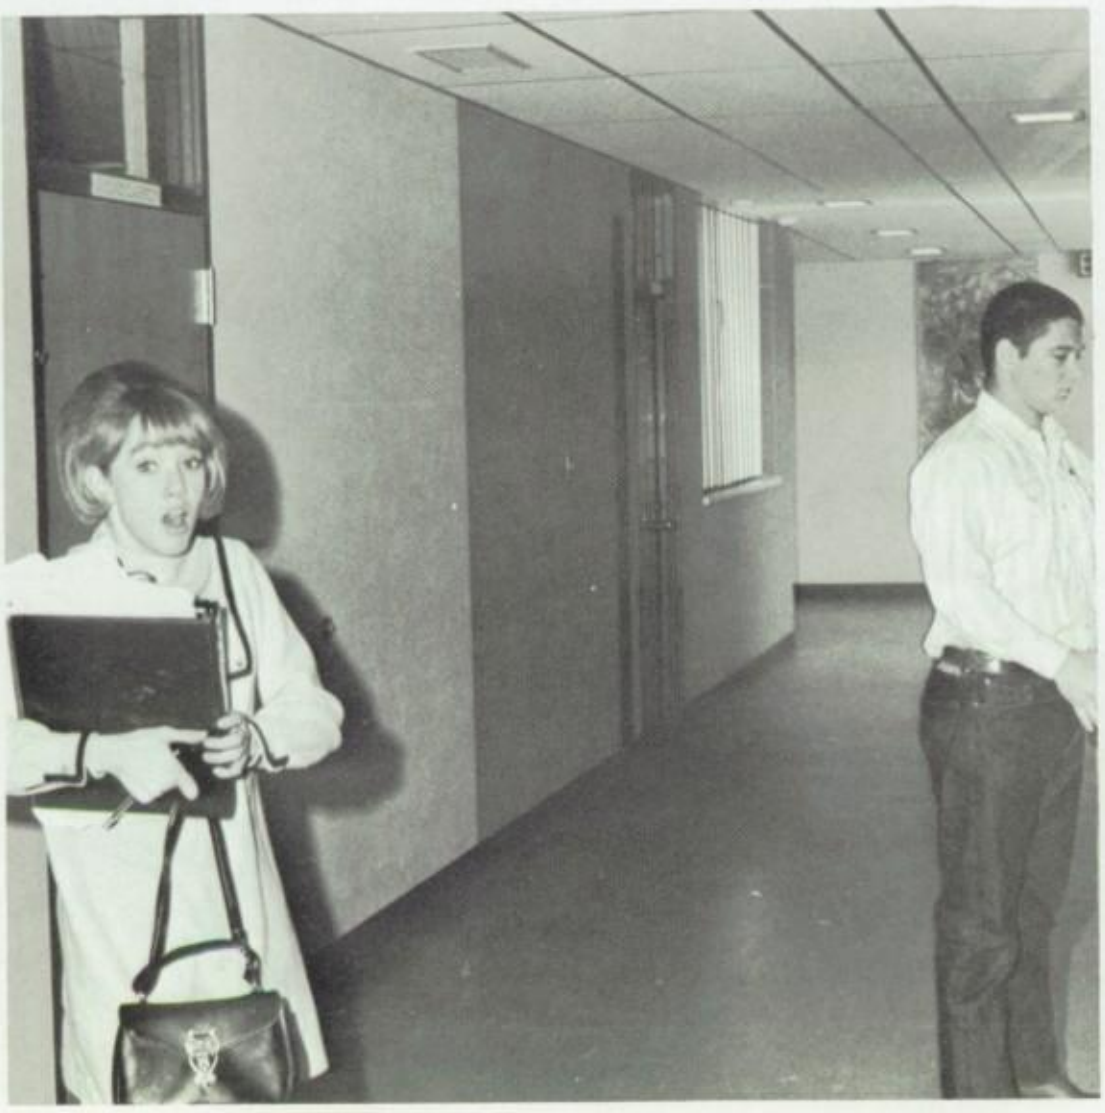
Not Just Classes

"Don't you like my new hairdo?" asks sophomore student Sonya Armontrout.

Juniors Hilma Castro and Kenny Fillingim try to stay busy in study hall and out of trouble.

Juniors . . . Juniors

What have you seen that is so shocking, Kathy? Whatever it was does not seem to have disturbed Ricky.



Junior girls are holding a pow-wow about something important.

Service to the school, community, and home was practiced by the Future Homemakers of America. These industrious young girls have always been improving old skills and learning new ones.

Compliments of
MR. AND MRS. N. B. HANCOCK

Future Homemakers Lera Nettles, Diane Foerster, and Cindi Haley look at the cook books that the FHA sold for their project.

"It is hard sweeping and hopping at the same time," says Diane Foerster.

Sonya Armontrout, Sandy Blevins, and Miss Worthington talk over plans for selling scented candles for Christmas.

FFA Members Work Hard

One of the largest school organizations, the Future Farmers of America, accomplished much this year. Their leadership provided excellent preparation for a prominent future in agriculture.

Leopards Show Fighting Spirit

The Leopards, under the leadership of Coaches Allen, Reiken, and Malone, started the 1967 football season off well. In a scrimmage against O'Donnell, the Leopards managed one score while the defense held the Eagles scoreless. From there on, it was uphill for the young and inexperienced Leopards. Even though the season was a real trial for Leopard spirit, it was not a complete waste. Much valuable experience was gained for the years to come.
